

Send your synopsis to our program committee:

Ulf Nilsson
EMC
ulf.nilsson@justmedia.se

Dag Stranneby
ESD
info@justmedia.se

Anders Mannikoff
Electrical Safety/Measurement
anders.mannikoff@justmedia.se

Jan Rydén
Mechanical Environment
jan.ryden@justmedia.se

Fredrik Bergner
Thermal Environment
fredrik.bergner@justmedia.se

Send your synopsis by June 30, 2008!

just event.

En av tre samverkande aktörer inom Media, Event och Reklam.

Call for Papers

Electronic Environment 2009 Conference and Exhibition covering the subjects EMC, ESD, Electrical Safety as well as Mechanical and Thermal Environments, will be held at Stockholmsmässan in Älvsjö, Sweden, on March 31 – April 1, 2009.

Dear Colleague,

Now you have the opportunity once again to present your findings and experiences to a large and interested audience; at Electronic Environment 2009, held at Stockholmsmässan in Älvsjö, Sweden, on March 31 – April 1, 2009. Subjects are any covering EMC, ESD and Electrical Safety. With a new broader scope, Electronic Environment 2009 will also include the areas of Mechanical and Thermal Environments.

Share your knowledge and experiences, spread new findings or forgotten wisdom. Inform on new regulations and standards. Raise awareness or debate. Exchange knowledge and experiences with colleagues, extend your fellow network and learn from the expertise of others.

We invite papers aimed for practicing technicians and design engineers, persons in management and marketing, quality and authority representatives as well as bodies of standardization, etc.

Lectures will run in five parallel sessions; EMC, ESD, Electrical Safety, Mechanical and Thermal Environments. Some presentations will be common for all as they address several areas of interest.

Please submit a short synopsis with headline to our program committee by June 30, 2008. Complete papers are due December 31, 2008. Further instructions will be included in a letter of admission, in September 2008. Papers may be in Swedish, Norwegian or English.

Speakers will receive:

- Free participation all days
- Printed summary of all abstracts
- Lunches, coffees and banquet dinner

For further information, please visit www.electronicenv.se

We in the program committee hope to see and listen to you at this unique event! Take the opportunity to show off and participate in keeping the level of knowledge up!

Please send us an e-mail should you have any questions, or call +46 31 775 03 90.

We welcome your synopsis!

Ulf, Dag, Anders, Jan and Fredrik

Welcome to Electronic Environment 2009!

The magazine Electronic Environment, formerly E³ Magazine, again plays host to the only joint conference and exhibition in the Nordic countries covering EMC, ESD and Electrical Safety. At the 2009 event our scope broadens to also include Mechanical and Thermal Environments.

Coming to the Electronic Environment 2009 meeting point are practicing technicians and design engineers, persons in management and marketing, quality and development representatives, buyers, consultants and decision makers, among others. All interested in EMC, ESD, Electrical Safety, Mechanical and Thermal Environments.

This is the place to get updated and increase knowledge. Many participants come aiming to improve electronic design, work procedures and production methods concerning the environmental properties of electronic products in regards to EMC, ESD, Electrical Safety, Mechanical and Thermal Environments.

Electronic Environment 2009 is a conference combined with an exhibition. On the exhibition floor is where experiences are exchanged, great ideas are born and where you meet numerous well known companies and organizations.

The conference will be held on March 31–April 1, 2009, at Stockholmsmässan in Älvsjö, Sweden.

Voices on the precursor; E³ Conference and Exhibition 2007:

"– Impressive. This is a great initiative. I would dare say it's a groundbreaking event. Especially as it bridges academia, industry and authority."

"– This is great. It is the first time these subject areas are assembled in Sweden. And it's obvious that there has been a need. All experts take part and the quality of everything presented is very high."

Partners:

Welcome to contact us!

Dan Wallander
Project managing, sales
Telefon: +46 31 775 03 91
dan.wallander@justevent.se

Maria Johansson
Sales, administration
Telefon: +46 31 775 03 88
maria.johansson@justevent.se

Thelma Infante
Economy, administration
Telefon: +46 31 775 03 77
thelma.infante@justevent.se

justevent.

En av tre samverkande aktörer inom Media, Event och Reklam.